Good Bye and Good Luck.

HAVING received a most flattering offer to return to Florida, where I spent two years both pleasantly and profitably, and accept a partnership in a daily paper, and regarding it as the chance of my life to grow and accumulate in my chosen profession, I felt that I owed it to myself and my children to accept it. That acceptance could not be delayed. It was now or never, and believing that there is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at its flood, leads on to fortune, I accepted it, after having induced my brother, Col. W. P. Walton, the well-known editor of Lexington, to take my place on the Climax.

For many reasons I regret to leave Richmond. I have formed many pleasant associations here and I will cherish to the end of memory every act of kindness or of patronage shown me. I would not leave except to greatly benefit myself and family. Florida is the coming State of the Union and Orlando is really the future great, because of its many incomparable advantages.

With the gentleman whom I have found to be a real help in every time of trouble, as honest as he is industrious, Mr. B. Duke Gordon, in charge of the mechanical department, and my brother-in-law, I feel that I will leave the Climax in thoroughly competent hands, and that somewhat assuages the sorrow of parting with it.

The change of management begins with Monday next, and a few days later I shall leave for the "Land of Sunshine and Flowers" with

A smile for those who love me
And a tear for those who hate,
And whatever sky's above me,
A heart for every fate.

ALL WE ASK OF YOU IS TO COME IN. WE KNOW WE'VE GOT THE STUFF, AND WE KNOW WE'VE GOT A FAIR PRICE. SO IF YOU WILL COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU, WE ARE CONFIDENT YOU WILL GET JUST WHAT YOU WANT. WE WON'T ASK YOU TO BUY WHAT YOU DON'T WANT. WE WANT YOU TO GET WHAT YOU DO WANT SO YOU WILL STAY WITH US.

STATISTICIANS delve into all sorts of propositions. Their latest investigation is that with the single exception of John Bunyan and Charles Swinburn, no literary genius has had red locks to adorn his temple. They usually have black or dark brown hair. This is hardly important, if true. A man's genius is not determined by the color of his locks, we opine, even if they may affect his temper. Some of the greatest men we have ever known had hair so red that it would put a red-headed woodpecker to blush.

The impeachment of Gov. Sulzer, of New York, is one of the racy occurrences in the political world. The Governor says he is innocent of any and all the charges brought against him and will fight the "case" to the last ditch. It is to be hoped that he will clear his skirts entirely and will again get the good will and confidence of his people. Things look pretty squally for him just now, however, but frequently the darkest hour is but the dawn of a brighter day. Let us hope so in this case, anyway.

SOME good, crisp editorials again appear in the Richmond Interior Journal, and we are glad to see them. Editor Sautley will please keep the good work going. We are for him for anything he wants, but he must not let the political game interfere with his editorial duties. He knows how to write and must write.

HOME grown watermelons are coming into Lancaster and Joe Robinson and Rob Elkin are so overjoyed they can hardly contain themselves. Richmond has been supplied with the home grown article for months. But Richmond is months ahead of Lancaster. Or any other place, we might truthfully add.

A Splendid Investment

Northern Louisiana Plantation For Sale.

This plantation contains 1,500 acres, of which 800 are in a high state of cultivation. Remainder of the place is in virgin hardwood timber, which, if worked out and sold in lots at present prices, will pay twice for the land its stands on.

The soil of this place is of alluvial deposit, rich and productive. It is suitable for corn, cotton, cane, oats, alfalfa, sorghum and red clover. This land is high, dry, well drained, and does not overflow. It is in the artesian water belt.

The property is located on good graded road, in four miles of railroad, is close to churches and good schools.

The improvements consist of an eight room, two-story residence, together with all necessary outbuildings, two mule barns, implement house, auto house, blacksmith shop, cotton gin and 25 good tenant houses.

This property, which is owned by an old gentleman, who, on account of extreme age, is desirous of retiring from farming, can be bought at the low price of $25 per acre, on very liberal terms, and at that price is included all the implements necessary for the cultivation of the place, and thirty two head of good young mules and horses.

This plantation, now stocked with high class labor, is located in the neighborhood of the large plantation recently purchased by Messrs. Thomas H. Collins and Oscar J. Patton. Also it is located in one of the best live stock sections of Louisiana, and would make an ideal stock ranch. To any one who is looking for an investment, it will be found that there is not an acre of this plantation that won't produce any acre you pick in Kentucky in dollars and cents when it comes to the investment.

We will take pleasure in furnishing any further information you may wish. 92 St. J. T. FENNEL, Richmond, Ky.

Public Sale and Renting

Farm, Stock & Crops
